Challenge yourself!

- A. Prepare a video advertising an adventure holiday in your hometown/country and upload it to the Live Classes Facebook group.
alternative option could be to do an interview with some "famous" sports stars. These could be done separately or included in the class video.

When you watch videos uploaded by other schools: how are they similar to your town? How are they different?

Some things you could include:

- A quick description of your hometown/country.
- Where your hometown is and how to get there.
- An "extreme activity" with a brief description. How much it costs, where you can do it etc.
- An interview with a "sports person"
- The most popular tourist attraction in/near your hometown
- Popular food in your hometown

When you're making the video don't forget to write a script and most importantly use your imagination and be creative.

Here is a link to my video of my (adopted) hometown here in Valencia. <https://youtu.be/LjNK-gZvJ4>

Your teacher has the script and the glossary from my, very amateur, video. They are also available in the description section.

.....

B. Do an interview with an "extreme sports person/people" one person can be the interviewer others can act as the sports stars.

Here are some sample questions:

1. How did you find out about ACTIVITY NAME?
2. Is it expensive?
3. What are the rules?
4. What's the best thing about it?
5. What kind of people play it?
6. How can you make ACTIVITY NAME more popular?

What makes YOUR HOMETOWN such a good place to do ACTIVITY NAME?

Guidelines:

- You can either invent a new extreme sport or research an existing sport online.
- Include one interview in your video.
- The more students in the video, the better. Let's get everyone involved! Feel free to make more than one video per class.
- Speak clearly and smile! You are going to teach students from all over the world about your hometown.
